

Science Information Evening for Parents of Year 7 and Year 8 January 2009

Crofton School hosted science information evenings for year 7 and year 8 parents. It was a chance for parents to come into the Science Department and experience for themselves what their children are doing in their science lessons.

It was good for us to see the nervous expressions on the faces of some of the parents and see this change as time progressed and the parents really got into the experiments. It was a great time and as well as being a serious event it was full of fun as you can see from the photographs.

This year the Maths Department will be joining us too so there will be Maths and Science lessons on offer. The dates for these events are:- Tuesday 12th January 2010 for Year 8 Parents and Tuesday 26th January for Year 7 parents. The times are the same for both years 3.45pm – 5.15pm. There is an application form on the website if you are interested in attending.
You are all welcome.
